They have given a number of affairs for the Phoenix including a tea last week when the details of the benefit were discussed informally among the group of world-famous artists who are to assist in the benefit.

Y. W. C. A.

The Easter vesper service will be held this afternoon at five o'clock, out of doors under the trees. Miss Nell Blount will give an Easter talk, and one that will be especially interesting to girls. There will be special music by a trio of women's voices, Mrs. R. M. Tafel and the Mandolin club, Mrs. Reba Elliot and Mrs. Alma Lowe will have charge of the flower decorations. A crowd of sixteen girls went to the Yaqui Indian dance Saturday night. They had a picnic supper and a good time in general.

The high school Y. W. C. A. club gave a surprise party for Helen Davison, a member of the club, who leaves for her home in New York next Monday. The girls gathered at Eastlake park and Bernice Eidson, who had invited Miss Davison to spend the night with her, took her for a walk and incidentally brought her to the park. Games were played, refreshments served, and each left with a regret in her heart of losing Miss Davison from the club.

Thursday night was a gala night on the Y. W. C. A. grounds when tables were fixed by the lunch room committee out on the lawn and the girls took their trays and ate out under the open sky. After the supper the girls of the Bible class had their pictures taken for the association annual. Mrs. R. F. Tafel pleased the audience with several vocal numbers, also Miss Gertrude Shepherd sang one piece after another, until the crowd dispersed.

CLUB NOTES

Official Organ State Federation of Clubs

The Woman's club will present the Lyric club in concert on the evening of May 4. An excellent program has been arranged and well known favorites will take part.

The need of an all night drug store in Phoenix will be discussed at the Civic League Wednesday afternoon by Dr. Rosa Goodrich Boido. After this question has been agitated, Mrs. E. P. Biddings, who was active in the Arizona suffrage campaign, but who has passed the last few years in California, will review the recent convention of the California State Federation of Clubs which she attended. She will take up the matter of "Settlement Houses." The league is particularly interested in this line of work and it is quite possible that something might be done in a practical way toward securing a settlement house for Phoenix. The league endorsed the Keatings-Owen bill and three other measures pertaining to women and children now pending in congress, the bills being called to attention by Mrs. J. L. B. Alexander, the chairman of the civics education department of the state federation.

The last meeting of the Glendale Woman's club under the auspices of the civics education department this season will be held Wednesday afternoon. The chairman, Mrs. Ira J. Moore, has arranged many unusual features under the general subject of "Current Topics." The program follows:

Roll Call
Little Bits from Here and There
Music
Reading
Mrs. J. G. Brooks
Doris Otto
Uncle Sam, Are You Prepared?
Mexico
Carol De Fever
Emma Lou Walters
Preparedness
Miss Marks
Current Topics
Mrs. G. A. White, Mrs. F. L. Gant
Review of the European War
Verner Patterson

"Thrill and Efficiency" will be discussed by N. D. Sanders, assistant manager of the Phoenix Savings Bank and Trust company Wednesday afternoon.

The Business Girls' Club at eight o'clock Monday evening at the Y. W. C. A. The club has offered splendid programs this season upon a variety of subjects and the speakers' list composed of men and women prominent in the business, professional and social world, has been exceptionally fine.

At the meeting of the College club on Wednesday last, the subject adopted for next year's work was a course of study in modern philosophy, or modern thinkers, alternated with programs upon some of the contemporary British poets. This will give a varied aspect to the year's work and at the same time allow full time for preparation for the one "heavy" program each month. The program in detail will be announced in these columns shortly.

One afternoon has again been set aside for creative work, which may be produced and submitted by members during the coming year.

This year the afternoon given over to original work from the membership was a great success.

Mrs. Franklin McCloskey had some lovely verses, and "our" Hoosier poet, Miss Christiana Gilchrist, read a number of delightful poems in dialect—not in the dialect of James Whitcomb Riley, but of "their old hired girl Sairy." Preceding these, Mrs. Frederick Henshaw had read the one-act play of Miss Bertha McEwen Knipe, "The Cost." "The Cost" is a well-rounded, finished piece of work, with careful characterization and restrained style, and written with a great deal of poetic as well as dramatic effect. It is a good piece of work, and a very beautiful one. Not only has ability been used to give it beauty, but thought has added strength to the presentation of the theme. It is to be hoped that a larger audience may soon be allowed to enjoy its presentation or at least to hear its reading.

The Orangewood-Ramona club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Seaman when the program for the coming year was discussed. The departmental work of the club will be along the lines of home economics, music and literature. It was decided to hold the annual picnic on May 25 at Eastlake park and members and their families will be included in the guest list. Mrs. Zoe Woolery gave an illustrated talk on "Arizona" at the conclusion of the business session. She spoke of the growth and development of the state and quoted from Farish's history of Arizona.

On Monday evening at the Woman's club, the Harmony club will give a public whist for the benefit of the philanthropic department of the club. In addition to cards there will be a delightful musical program and other features that will add to the pleasure of the guests. The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for the purpose for which the club is fast gaining a state-wide reputation, that of aiding the needy. The worthiness of the cause should insure the hearty support of the public. The club last week sent an Easter box to the Arizona Orphans Home in Tucson containing clothing, books, candies and a small sum of money to be used as the matron advises. Fifteen dollars was donated by the club at its last meeting. A social gathering is scheduled for Wednesday, the hostesses being Mrs. J. E. Goddard, Mrs. Adolf Liebenow and Mrs. Joe Rickards.

An attractive addition to all the club programs is the musical numbers and as such the features have come in for their share of attention this season. An especially good program was presented in connection with the debate offered at the Woman's club last week. The musicians taking part were Miss Esther Carpenter and Bartlett Sims.

The year's work of the Woman's club will be reviewed Tuesday afternoon when the club will hold its last regular meeting for the season. The reports of the officers and a talk by the president, Mrs. John Dennett, Jr., will be features of the program. The musical numbers will include "The Water Lily" by McDowell, and Chopin's Waltz in E Minor played by Mrs. W. F. Schneidewitz and Mrs. Henry Lockett will sing a group of songs, "Femile Belles," "Less Than the Dust" and "The Kaffir Song" by Amy Woodford Flaeden. At the conclusion of the program tea will be served. A delightful social hour has been arranged for this meeting and it is anticipated that there will be a large attendance.

The Art Study Class of the Woman's club will meet Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the department room. Mrs. Emory Odaker will conduct the program, the subject of which will be "Artists of Southern California."

I am in receipt of "Advance Styles" describing the new modes for summer and early fall. You should plan now on your suit, jacket and skirt requirements for your summer trip. My experience is at your service.

CARDIGANMYERS GROUP AT AJO TAKEN OVER BY BIG SYNDICATE

(Special Correspondence)

AJO, April 21.—One of the most important financial transactions that has been consummated in connection with the Ajo mining district has been closed here with the transfer of the Cardigan and Myers groups of copper claims comprising a total of thirty claims in the heart of the Ajo mineral belt and joining the New Cornelia property on the south and west. The identity of the purchasing syndicate was not made public, but it is authoritatively stated that it includes a number of the strongest mining men in the Mesaba range iron mines in Michigan. This transaction means the stimulation of nation-wide interest in the Ajo district, not because of the scale of the transaction, but, still more because of the prominence and standing of the mining operators in the purchasing syndicate. The sale was made at a large figure with a substantial cash payment down and calls for immediate development on a large scale.

The Ajo Consolidated Copper Company are pushing development work on their property with two diamond drills and have just completed the installation of new machinery and have a full force prospecting from the main shaft to the rich ore bodies developed in the drill holes. Large bodies of commercial ore have been developed and it is rumored that the property will be sold in the near future to an eastern syndicate at a price reported to be in the neighborhood of $12,000,000.

The New Cornelia Company are rushing the development work on the 4,000 ton leach plant and within another year will be producing copper at the rate of about 35,000,000 pounds a year.

The Wall Street property located three miles south of Ajo was recently examined for a large company and from all indications the deal will go through and a number of diamond drill holes will be put down on the property in the near future. The surface indications on this property are excellent and will undoubtedly develop into one of the big producers of the district.

Copper Mountain, owned by Gibson and Knox, and located about eighteen miles southeast of Ajo, is attracting a great deal of attention and it is rumored that a deal is to be made for the purchase of the property by one of the largest companies in the state. J. A. C. Martinez of Phoenix gave a lease and bond on his property twenty miles south of Ajo for a consideration of $20,000,000. Development work will be started in the near future.

The townships are all booming and the muleskinners can pilot a six-mule team up Main street without getting mixed up with a fitney is considered a hero. The Ajo Stock Exchange conducted by Mitchell & Brunel is one of the busiest places in the new camp. The Ajo News company is also a very busy place on the arrival of the Arizona Republican. This paper reaches the camp one day earlier than any of the other papers and there is always a big rush to get the latest news. A great many new people are coming into the camp and from all indications Ajo will be one of the largest camps in the southwest for the next quarter of a century.

Hire a little salesman at The Republican office. A want ad will see more customers than you can.
